ROCKET PORTFOLIO

Electron: Small launch vehicle • ~300 kg payload to LEO • 50+ successful launches • One of the world's most active small launch vehicles

Neutron (In Development): Medium-lift reusable rocket • 13,000 kg+ payload capacity • Designed for larger launch markets • Major future growth driver for Rocket Lab

RECENT STRATEGIC DEVELOPMENT

Acquisition of Iridium Communications (~US$8 Billion)

Rocket Lab is acquiring Iridium to accelerate its transformation into a fully integrated, end-to-end space company – combining launch, manufacturing, and global satellite communications.

Strategic Benefits:

- Rocket launches at scale
- Satellite manufacturing expansion
- Global satellite communications network
- Recurring revenue from Iridium's subscriber base

 Goal: Become a fully integrated space company – similar to SpaceX – controlling the entire space mission lifecycle from launch to operations and communications.
